The resurrection of Jesus – the heart of Easter – reminds us right from the very beginning that we exist for a purpose: to proclaim the risen one. We do not exist for our own sake – but for mission – to do the work of God. May we pray for the grace and wisdom to nurture our relationship with the Risen Jesus. It is a treasure beyond imagining. And it is the reason why we Christians boldly proclaim "Alleluia!"

Church Observing Holy Week

Love Jesus in all who suffer, Pope Francis says

VATICAN CITY (CNS) – Jesus does not ask that people only contemplate his image, but that they also recognize and love him concretely in all people who suffer like he did, Pope Francis said.

Jesus is "present in our many brothers and sisters who today endure sufferings like his own – they suffer from slave labor, from family tragedies, from diseases. They suffer from wars and terrorism, from interests that are armed and ready to strike," the pope said April 9 as he celebrated the Palm Sunday Mass of the Lord's Passion.

In his noon Angelus address, the pope also decried recent terrorist attacks in Sweden and Egypt, calling on "those who sow terror, violence and death," including arms' manufacturers and dealers, to change their ways.

At least 15 people were killed and dozens more injured April 9 in an Orthodox church north of Cairo as Coptic Christians gathered for Palm Sunday Mass; the attack in Sweden occurred two days earlier when a truck ran through a crowd outside a busy department store in central Stockholm, killing four and injuring 15 others.

The pope also prayed for all people affected by war, which he called, a "disgrace of humanity."

Tens of thousands of people carrying palms and olive branches joined the pope during a solemn procession in St. Peter's Square under a bright, warm sun for the beginning of Holy Week.

Bishop Joseph C. Bambera celebrated a Pontifical Liturgy at 12:15 p.m. at the Cathedral of Saint Peter in Scranton. The Mass began in the Cathedral Prayer Garden with a blessing of palms and a Gospel reading, followed by a procession into the Cathedral.

"My brothers and sisters – no matter how tightly we clutch the palms that we carry today – our experience of Holy Week will not bring us a peace that takes away the harsh realities of life that we face each day," the Bishop said in his homily. "But our embrace of the example of Jesus – our efforts to love selflessly and to care for the lives that God has given to us, even as we bear the burden of the crosses that rest on our shoulders, have the power to open our lives to the mystery of God's saving grace. Only by entrusting our lives to the crucified, suffering and risen Jesus will any of us truly be able to face each day – and even death itself – with hope and peace. Therein, my friends, is the true and lasting gift of Holy Week."

Priests serving throughout the Diocese gathered at the Cathedral on Tuesday, April 11, for the Solemn Pontifical Chrism Mass, at which the Holy Oils used during the conferral of sacraments throughout the Church year were blessed. During this Mass, priests and deacons, along with lay representatives from diocesan parishes, acknowledged the Bishop's role as the unifying symbol for Church governance and pastoral guidance. Priests renewed their ordination promises. The Catholic Light Photo/Mike Melisky

The Paschal Triduum Begins

The solemn observation of the Paschal Triduum, the three most sacred days of the Church's liturgical year, begins on Holy Thursday, April 13, with the Mass of the Lord's Supper. During the Triduum (Latin for "three days"), the Church enters more deeply into the great mysteries of our redemption: the suffering, death and resurrection of Christ that has destroyed our death and restored our life. The Paschal Triduum, which solemnly celebrates these sacred mysteries of God's love for us, is the culmination of the entire liturgical year and can be considered one great liturgy that takes place over three days.

The Mass of the Lord's Supper is celebrated on Holy Thursday, and this first movement of the Triduum marks the occasion on which Christ gave us his Body and Blood in the Eucharist, as well as the gift of the priesthood, and the mandatum — his commandment to love and to serve others. At the Cathedral of Saint Peter in Scranton, the Pontifical Evening Mass of the Lord's Supper will begin at 5:30 p.m. Bishop Joseph C. Bambera will be the principal celebrant.

At the start of the liturgy, the tabernacle is entirely empty according to the Church's ancient tradition, and a sufficient amount of bread is consecrated on this evening for the Holy Communion of those gathered and for those who will gather on Good Friday. Christ's commandment to love others is exemplified in the rite of the Washing of Feet, which reenacts Christ washing the feet of his disciples at the Last Supper. Following this Mass, the Blessed Sacrament is transferred to the place of repose. The faithful are encouraged to spend some time in quiet prayer and adoration before the Blessed Sacrament following the Mass of the Lord's Supper.

On Good Friday, April 14, and the following day (up to the Easter Vigil), the Church does not celebrate the sacraments at all, except for Penance and Anointing of the Sick. Good Friday is also a day of fast and abstinence.

At the Cathedral, Morning Prayer for Good Friday will be at 8 a.m. The Commemoration of the Passion and Death of the Lord celebrated by Bishop Bambera will begin at 12:10 p.m.

The Celebration of the Passion of the Lord on this day consists of three parts: the Liturgy of the Word, the Adoration of the Cross, and Holy Communion. During this second movement of the Paschal Triduum, the Passion according to John is proclaimed and the Solemn Intercessions are voiced for all people, including those who do not believe in Christ and those who do not believe in God, for no one can be excluded from the redeeming power of Christ's sacrifice. Through the Adoration of the Holy Cross, the faithful reverence the instrument of torture and death that became the instrument of our salvation and new life. Following the Celebration of the Lord's Passion, the Church continues to pray and to reflect on the death of the Lord. The Stations of the Cross will be prayed at 5 p.m.

BISHOP BAMBERA'S EASTER MESSAGE

Dear friends,

"Do not be afraid! I know that you are seeking Jesus the crucified. He is not here, for he has been raised just as he said."

These words from Saint Matthew's gospel, proclaimed this year during the great Vigil of Easter, confronted the first followers of Jesus on the day of his resurrection and boldly affirmed God's promise to save his people.

Yet despite such powerful words of faith that we read in the scriptures and proclaim whenever we gather for the celebration of the Eucharist, the reality of life at times can consume us with grief, pain and fear as we face upheaval in our world and disappointment and loss in our families and neighborhoods. Yet in all of these seasons of life, we are challenged to move forward in hope.

Some years ago, Pope Emeritus Benedict XVI offered these profound words that speak to the hope we all seek in life and that, in so many respects, capture the heart of the Easter mysteries that we celebrate during these sacred days. "Christian hope means to know about evil and yet to go to meet the future with confidence." ... Hope for the Christian – for me and you – does not emerge, then, from the absence of suffering and pain in our lives. We know that all too well. Instead, authentic hope grows from a relationship with Jesus and our recognition of the power of God at work within him that transformed his cross and death into resurrection and life.

On Holy Saturday night, 64 catechumens from throughout the Diocese of Scranton will be baptized into the life, death and resurrection of Jesus and 125 candidates will present themselves for full initiation into the Catholic Church. These catechumens and candidates — our relatives, neighbors and friends — will join with tens of thousands of catechumens and candidates from around the world to publically affirm their relationship with Jesus, to profess their hope in the power of God present in his resurrection, and to express their resolve to pattern their lives on his life of selfless service and love. In so doing, they offer a powerful witness to a world fraught with secular ideologies and godless traditions. Their very presence in our midst affirms that for so many, it is not enough to simply place our trust in the passing things of this life. Rather, for them — and for us who recommit ourselves to the promises made at our own Baptisms — life makes sense and hope emerges only when we hand our lives over to Jesus and the gospel for which he gave his life.

My friends, the Word of God is clear in reminding us that as precious as this gift of participating in the life of the risen Jesus may be, it is not a gift to be selfishly consumed. The resurrection of Jesus – the heart of Easter – reminds us right from the very beginning that we exist for a purpose: to proclaim the risen one. Indeed, in Saint Matthew's gospel account of the resurrection, the women, who go to the tomb to anoint the body of Jesus only to discover that it is missing, are told first, "Do not be afraid!," and then are told to "go quickly and tell his disciples" that the Lord has been raised.

We do not exist for our own sake – but for mission – to do the work of God. We exist to gather those who are scattered and alienated from one another, themselves and God. We exist to proclaim justice and respect for creation – especially that part of creation made in the image and likeness of God. We exist to feed and clothe and heal the poor and broken. We exist to welcome the stranger, the immigrant and refugee. We exist to extend mercy and forgiveness. We exist to love and labor for peace.

As bishop of this great local church of the Diocese of Scranton, I am profoundly touched by the example of your lives. In the midst of all that life unfolds, from moments of disappointment, loss and grief to those of joy and peace, you continue to live your faith and fulfill the promises of your Baptism. You continue to serve your brothers and sisters. And you continue to derive hope from a living relationship with Jesus, risen from the dead and very much alive in our midst.

May we pray for the grace and wisdom to nurture our relationship with the Risen Jesus. It is a treasure beyond imagining. And it is the reason why we Christians boldly proclaim "Alleluia!"

Faithfully yours in the Risen Christ,

† Joseph C. Bambera

Mass Celebrates Consecrated Life

The annual Mass and Jubilee Celebration for Women and Men Religious was celebrated on Sunday, April 2, at the Cathedral of Saint Peter in Scranton. Bishop Joseph C. Bambera was principal celebrant for the liturgy, during which religious priests, brothers and sisters who are celebrating jubilee anniversaries of ordination or profession of vows were honored.

Collectively, the Bishop noted, our jubilarians alone represent over 3,373 years of service to the Church in Consecrated Life. "What a blessing you have been and continue to be for all of us," he said.

All women and men Religious and members of those various forms of Consecrated Life who offer service to the Church as members of secular institutes were invited to this special event.

This year, 57 women and men Religious celebrating jubilees of 25, 50, 60, 65, 70 and 75 years in religious life were honored, including four sisters ministering in our Diocese who have achieved the milestone of 75 years.

"Today we gather in prayer to reflect upon the gift of consecrated life in the Church. We reflect upon women and men who have understood and embraced the Lord's universal call to holiness and mission," Bishop Bambera said.

"In so many significant ways, your lives and ministry constitute those foundational building blocks upon which the Church of Jesus has been built. And you've helped to build the Church, not with bricks and mortar, but with living stones – the People of God. Because of your holiness and singular commitment to the gospel mandate to serve as Jesus did – you've not only touched the hearts of countless numbers of faithful souls, but you have revealed the face of God to a broken, struggling world."

Bishop Bambera added: "My dear sisters and brothers in consecrated life, we thank you for lighting our way on our journey of faith."

Pope Francis' Prayer for Vocations

God our Father, You made each of us to use our gifts in the Body of Christ.

We ask that you inspire young people whom you call to priesthood and consecrated life to courageously follow your will.

Send workers into your great harvest so that the Gospel is preached, the poor are served with love, the suffering are comforted, and your people are strengthened by the sacraments.

> Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Am I Called?

The truth is we are all called. Jesus is calling us to follow Him and be His disciple. But is He calling you to become a priest?

As a baptized man considering the Priesthood, with the right motives and the inward sense that God is calling you, you should consider this calling as an invitation from Christ. Truly, it is a gift from God. And you need to decide how to respond to this gift.

Being a priest is not easy, but then again, what way of life is? If you believe that Christ is calling you then you owe it to yourself and to all those you may someday serve to determine what exactly you are being called to do. Discernment is accomplished through prayer and spiritual guidance from a priest. Because Christ speaks to you and comes to you through His church, you will need the church to help you discern your vocation.

The question is not: "What am I to do with my life?"

The question is: "What is God calling me to do?"

These questions are posed to you to help you in finding your true happiness and fulfillment while doing the will of God.

Acolytes are appointed to aid the deacon and to minister to the priest. It is his duty to attend to the service of the altar and to assist the deacon and the priest in liturgical celebrations, especially in the celebration of Mass. He may also distribute communion as an extraordinary minister of Holy Communion when appropriate.

World Day of Prayer for Vocations on May 7

"There can be no promotion of vocations or Christian mission apart from the constant contemplative prayer," said Pope Francis on the upcoming occasion of the 54th Anniversary of World Day of Prayer for Vocations.

He continued, "The Christian life needs to be nourished by attentive listening to God's word and, above all, by the cultivation of a personal relationship with the Lord in Eucharistic adoration, the privileged 'place' for our encounter with God. Parish communities, associations and the many prayer groups present in the Church, not to yield to discouragement but to continue praying that the Lord will send workers to his harvest."

The World Day of Prayer for Vocations will be celebrated this year on Sunday, May 7, the Fourth Sunday of Easter. The Diocesan celebration will held at Saint Elizabeth Ann Seton Parish, Swoyersville, at 5:30 p.m. with Bishop Joseph C. Bambera as celebrant and homilist.

"This is our second year moving the celebration throughout the Diocese," said Father Donald Williams, Diocesan Director of Vocations and Seminarians. "Our hope is we will reach even more people and continue to create a culture of vocations throughout the Diocese of Scranton. All are welcome to participate."

The Diocese and vocation directors of religious communities will display materials at a light reception following the liturgy. Another special feature will be the launch of #partnerwithfrancis, the Diocesan-wide survey of youth, college students, and working young adults in preparation for the 2018 Synod on "Young People, the Faith and Vocational Discernment" with Pope Francis. Bishop Bambera will be part of this first listening session, which will take place during the reception.

In addition to the Diocesan celebration, parishes are encouraged to have vocation-based homilies, vocation-themed youth ministry nights, lessons in religious education programs, recitation of the rosary for vocations, and holy hours.

For more information, please contact the Vocation Office at (570) 207-1452 or email vocations@dioceseofscranton.org.

Lord Jesus, Good Shepherd, may the faithful in our Diocese hear your call and follow your voice as they discern their vocations. Lead your people to heaven through the ministry of holy priests and consecrated men and women. Jesus, we trust in you! Amen.

Four hundred years ago, in France, a parish priest who would eventually be canonized as St. Vincent de Paul founded an organization of Catholic lay women volunteers to serve the corporal and spiritual needs of the poor.

Called the Ladies of Charity, the association grew globally - including in the Diocese of Scranton – and continues to fulfill its mission.

In 1850, St. Elizabeth Ann Seton established a community in Emmitisburg, Md. This community was affiliated with the Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul and adopted the name and the gray-blue habit and white winged corvette. Emmitisburg is a site of pilgrimage for Ladies of Charity up to the present time.

The first group of Ladies of Charity in the United States began in 1857 at St. Vincent Church in St. Louis, where they still serve. In 1972 the Ladies of Charity of the United States joined associations around the world, forming the Association of International Charities (AIC). Thus the seed sown by St. Vincent in 1615 has become a huge tree that extends its branches to 40 countries, with a worldwide membership of more than 260,000 lay volunteers.

There are currently 17,000 Ladies of Charity in the United States who volunteer in their parishes and communities. They visit hospitals, nursing homes and prisons; serve the homeless in soup kitchens and homeless shelters; read to the blind; sew and handcraft lap robes and shawls for the sick and elderly and make layettes for newborn babies. They also participate in the liturgical life of the Church in many roles; such as lectors and Eucharistic ministers.

Charter Enrollment took place on February 1, 1953, in St. Mary of the Immaculate Conception Church, Wilkes-Barre with an investiture by Father Boylan of the 125 women enrolled.

After nine productive years of growth and service, Father Boylan was succeeded by Father Donald A. McAndrews, who became the Executive Director of Catholic Social Services and also the moderator of this active group. Under his direction, the Wilkes-Barre group expanded and encompassed the whole of Luzerne County.

Seven years later, another group was formed in Hazleton through the Catholic Social Services Office there. They provided significant assistance to the office's various projects and community service programs for more than 20 years before disbanding.

After many fruitful years, now-Monsignor McAndrews retired in 1992 and was succeeded by Monsignor Joseph P. Kelly. Monsignor Kelly retired in 2016 but has remained as moderator of the Ladies of Charity.

There are now more than 200 Ladies of Charity throughout the Diocese. They provide over 30,000 hours of parish and community service each year. They also engage in a Circle of dedicated to good works. Diocese, Community Mourn Loss of Lindsay O'Rourke Doherty

Worked to secure support for Catholic schools

Lindsay O'Rourke Doherty, a member of the Diocesan Development Office, died unexpectedly shortly after completing the Scranton Half-Marathon on April 2.

Lindsay, 36, was foremost a devoted wife and mother. She also worked tirelessly to secure support for Diocesan Catholic schools and was an advocate for many charitable and civic causes in the community. She touched the hearts of countless people through her love, friendship and commitment to a life of service. Her sudden and tragic death was met with profound shock and sadness in this region and beyond.

In her role as Educational Improvement Tax Credit/ Opportunity Scholarship Tax Credit Coordinator for the Diocese, Lindsay collaborated with area businesses to obtain financial support for our Catholic schools, which in turn enabled many families to have the opportunity for their children to benefit from a Catholic education.

She also contributed her time and talent to St. Clare/St. Paul School, the parish, the Sant' Andrea Society and St. Joseph's

Previously, she held positions at the Association of Jesuit Colleges and Universities, the National Association for the Education of Young Children, Bloomingdale's and Pearson Education.

As her obituary so aptly noted, Lindsay was "unfailingly kind, generous and committed to her faith . . . she brought out the best in the wide circle of family and friends who adored her. Those who loved her will remember her radiant smile and enthusiasm, her abiding care and compassion, her sense of humor and the deep joy she brought to all the lives she touched."

Her greatest achievement was the love and care she devoted to her husband of 10 years, James A. Doherty III, and their three children, James IV, Kathryn and Paige.

Also surviving are her parents, Vincent and Bonny O'Rourke of Holden, Mass., a brother, Robert O'Rourke of Groton, Mass.; brothers and sisters-in-law, Mimi Doherty of Scranton; Judy Riff and her husband, James, of Clarks Summit; Grace Hillebrand and her husband, Thomas, of Clarks Summit; Patrick Doherty of Scranton; and Jack Doherty of New York City; and numerous aunts, uncles, cousins, nieces and nephews.

A prayer service for Lindsay was held in her parish church, St. Paul's Church in Scranton, on April 3. A Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated there by her pastor, Monsignor Neil Van Loon, on April 7. The Mass was concelebrated by priests of the Diocese, with Bishop Joseph C. Bambera in attendance.

In his homily, Monsignor Van Loon cited a favorite author, Jesuit Father John Farrell, who tells us that our song, our message and our love are particular to each one of us.

"Lindsay certainly sang her song - and she sang it loud and strong," Monsignor Van Loon said. "Of all the songs she could have sung, she chose the wise and selfless one and she sang her song of life perfectly, hitting all the right notes flawlessly and by design. Faith, family, friends, others – they were the high notes. They were the melody that accompanied a life well lived.

"She learned well, and I imagine from a young age, that the only thing we take with us is what we give away in this world. By that measure, she ventures from us a very wealthy woman indeed."

Monsignor also noted that Mother Teresa said: "it is not how much we do in life, but how much love we put into the doing."

"Surely, in her short life, Lindsay did a lot of doing, but what is more; she put a lot of love into the doing. To know her, was to love her . . . To live in the heart of those we love is to never die at all," Monsignor Van Loon said.

"Yes, Lindsay has sung her song, delivered her message, and imparted her love. She has finished the course; the journey of her soul finds rest. Her victory has been

Living as a People of God in Unsettled Times

A pastoral reflection from the Administrative Committee of the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops

WASHINGTON — The U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops Administrative Committee has issued the following pastoral reflection in solidarity with those who have been forced to flee their homes due to violence, conflict or fear in their native lands. In the statement, the bishops encourage each of us to do what we can to accompany migrants and refugees who seek a better life in the United States.

The full text of the Bishops' Administrative Committee statement:

The word of God is truly alive today. "When an alien resides with you in your land, do not mistreat such a one. You shall treat the alien who resides with you no differently than the natives born among you; you shall love the alien as yourself; for you too were once aliens in the land of Egypt" (Lev. 19:33-34).

To live as a people of God is to live in the hope of the resurrection. To live in Christ is to draw upon the limitless love of Jesus to fortify us against the temptation of fear. Pray that our engagement in the debate over immigration and refugee issues may bring peace and comfort to those most affected by current and proposed national policy changes.

Let us not lose sight of the fact that behind every policy is the story of a person in search of a better life. They may be an immigrant or refugee family sacrificing so that their children might have a brighter future. As shepherds of a pilgrim Church, we will not tire in saying to families who have the courage to set out from their despair onto the road of hope: "We are with you." They may also be a family seeking security from an increased threat of extremist violence. It is necessary to safeguard the United States in a manner that does not cause us to lose our humanity.

Intense debate is essential to healthy democracy, but the rhetoric of fear does not serve us well. When we look at one another do we see with the heart of Jesus? Within our diverse backgrounds are found common dreams for our children. Hope in the next generation is how the nation will realize its founding motto, "out of many, one." In doing so, we will also realize God's hope for all His children: that we would see each other as valued sisters and brothers regardless of race, religion or national origin.

Our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, the Word made flesh (Jn. 1:14), strengthens us to bring our words to life. How might we, as Catholics and in our own small way, bring our words of solidarity for migrants and refugees to life?

- 1. Pray for an end to the root causes of violent hatred that force mothers and fathers to flee the only home they may have known in search of economic and physical security for their children.
- 2. Meet with members of your parish who are newcomers, listen to their story and share your own. Hundreds of Catholic parishes across the country have programs for immigrants and refugees both to comfort them and to help them know their rights. It is also important to reach out in loving dialogue to those who may disagree with us. The more we come to understand each other's concerns the better we can serve one another. Together, we are one body in Christ.

Editor's Note: Gary L. Cangemi, the creator of "Umbert the Unborn," died on March 18 in Scranton. Through his nationally syndicated comic strip, Gary touched the hearts and minds of countless readers by illustrating, with humor and insight, the inherent humanity of the unborn child. Gary's legacy will live on through the continued publication of "Umbert the Unborn" in The Catholic Light.

3. Call, write or visit your elected representative and ask them to fix our broken immigration system in a way that safeguards both our security and our humanity through a generous opportunity for legal immigration.

As Pope Francis said, "To migrate is the expression of that inherent desire for the happiness proper to every human being, a happiness that is to be sought and pursued. For us Christians, all human life is an itinerant journey towards our heavenly homeland."

Diocese Establishes Safe Environment Advisory Committee

As another component of our commitment to ensure the highest standards of safety for children, youth and vulnerable adults, the Diocese has formed a Safe Environment Advisory Committee.

Protection of these at-risk populations is the primary goal to be achieved by following the teachings of the Catholic Church and upholding the values of human dignity, integrity, mutual respect, servant leadership and accountability.

Last summer, an invitation to join the committee was sent to priests, deacons, Diocesan school principals, religious education staff, youth ministers and safe environment managers. Forty individuals representing all regions and ministries volunteered their time and expertise.

The initial meeting of the committee was held in October. At that time the committee developed a mission statement and identified short- and long-term goals. Recently, the committee convened at the Diocesan Pastoral

Center in Scranton to continue its work

The committee will provide valuable feedback, support and recommendations on safe environment policies and practices. Through this effort, programs serving youth and vulnerable adults will be strengthened. One of the committee's first tasks is the development of a Youth Code of Conduct.

Cyber Safety Workshops This Month in Wilkes-Barre, Scranton

In recognition of Child Abuse Prevention Month in April, the committee is sponsoring a workshop on cyber safety. Dr. Jayne Klenner, professor of information technology at King's College and a member of the committee, will offer two educational sessions for parents and caregivers of youth. The title of the workshop is "Tips and Tricks for Keeping Kids Safe Online."

The first meeting will be held at the McGowan Building on the campus of King's College on Wednesday, April 19, from 6:30–8:30 p.m. A second session will take place at the Diocesan Pastoral Center, 330 Wyoming Avenue, Scranton, on Wednesday, April 26, from 6:30–8:30 p.m.

Diocese Maintains Comprehensive Child Protection Program

The Diocese of Scranton remains firmly committed to offering pastoral care to survivors of sexual abuse and maintaining a comprehensive array of policies and programs to protect children.

Bishop Joseph C. Bambera said, "We offer our support, compassion and assistance to help survivors of sexual abuse achieve healing. We remain vigilant and firmly committed to doing everything we can to prevent abuse within our Church, parishes, school communities, and Diocesan run facilities."

Our mission is to create safe environments for children through education and prevention programs, and establishing policies that clearly set standards of behavior regarding contact with minors. These endeavors include:

- The Diocese of Scranton maintains a zero tolerance policy for clergy, lay employees and volunteers who engage in misconduct with minors and takes immediate action when an accusation is made. Any allegation of abuse is reported immediately to law enforcement, and any substantiated allegation against a member of the clergy results in immediate and permanent removal from ministry.
- The Diocese retains a Victim Assistance Coordinator who coordinates assistance for the immediate pastoral care of persons who claim to have been sexually abused as a minor by a member of the clergy. Each year, this program offers substantial support to survivors and their families by underwriting expenses related to counseling, medication and other forms of care.
- All employees in parishes, schools and Diocesan run facilities clergy, religious and laity as well as volunteers, including teachers and coaches, must have up-to-date criminal background and child abuse clearances. In addition, all employees and volunteers receive training on the nature of child sexual abuse and how a parish/school community can work together proactively to prevent it. Since 2003, the total number of adults trained by the Diocese now stands at 27,485.
- In order to strengthen the protection of children and assure that all mandated reporters of child abuse have accurate information, the Diocese of Scranton requires all identified mandated reporters to complete a training course.
- The Diocese has also implemented a safe environment program for students in grades K-12 in Catholic schools and parish religious education programs to teach them how to recognize and avoid situations that could lead to sexual abuse. It also encourages communication between children and their parents so that potentially dangerous situations and incidents are reported promptly.
- Our website (www.dioceseofscranton.org) contains comprehensive information about our Child Protection/Safe Environment policies and procedures. In every edition of The Catholic Light, we publish a notice about reporting sexual abuse of a minor. We also urge anyone to report incidents of child abuse immediately to the 24-hour PA Child Abuse Hot Line. The toll-free number is 1-800-932-0313.
- Every diocese in the U.S. undergoes an annual audit to determine if it is complying with the provisions of the Charter for the Protection of Children and Young People. The Diocese of Scranton has been in compliance with all audits conducted since inception of the audit process. We constantly assess our procedures to insure that we are following our policies.
- The Safe Environment Advisory Committee was established in 2016 to provide recommendations and feedback concerning policies and practices of the Safe Environment Program. Currently 40 members from throughout the Diocese of Scranton serve on the Committee.

Catholic Home Missions Appeal Strengthens the Church at Home

While the Church has needs around the world, she also faces challenges in our own country. In fact, almost half of the United States is considered mission territory.

Many dioceses are experiencing priest shortages, impoverished populations and limited resources, as well as difficulties due to remote geography.

The Catholic Home Missions Appeal addresses these needs through grants for projects that enable these dioceses to provide spiritually for their flocks.

This collection will be taken up in the Diocese of Scranton the weekend of April 29-30.

In 2016 the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops' (USCCB) Subcommittee on Catholic Home Missions approved $9.2 million in grants to assist 84 dioceses and eparchies across the country. This funding supports various pastoral programs, including religious education and youth ministry, priestly and religious formation, prison ministries, and lay ministry training.

Like most priests on the threshold of their 50th anniversary of ordination, Father Charles Cummings has enough material from his years of ministry to write a book. Unlike most priests, however, he actually has.

At the age of 75, the retired Diocesan priest from Williamsport recently penned Love, Laughter & Living Saints — a book, as he puts it, "of 61 very short stories about my years as a priest."

He succinctly summarizes the written work as a personal recollection of many childhood memories and parish happenings.

A member of the first ordination class of the Diocese of Scranton to come through the doors of the former St. Pius X Seminary in Dalton, Father Cummings was one of 16 seminarians ordained in 1968 — the centennial year of the Diocese.

Now he looks with joyful anticipation to his golden jubilee of ordination in 2018, when the Church of Scranton will celebrate its sesquicentennial — or 150th anniversary.

Father Cummings resides in Williamsport, the place of his birth, where he grew up in Annunciation Parish. The church of his youth is now the principal worship site of St. Joseph the Worker Parish in the city. Having ministered in the Williamsport area for the past 20 years, Father Cummings' pastoral days have come to an end, but he continues to assist with Masses at parishes throughout Lycoming County.

Fr. Charles Cummings

The priest-author credits his brother and nephew as the impetus behind putting his ministerial musings to paper, or, rather, computer screen

"(They) suggested that I begin writing the homily and family stories I had been telling for many years," Father Cummings shares. "I was aware of the work that goes into writing. I have written innumerable sermons, reports, bulletins and parish announcements; usually written with a deadline.

"What I had to learn was the discipline needed to sit down at the computer or typewriter and begin writing when there is no time or date restraint. A thousand excuses appear when it is time to write, and I have used every one of them."

He has also benefitted from the journalistic expertise of a cousin, Mike Cummings, a retired reporter, feature writer and editor of the Williamsport Grit newspaper, who graciously offered to edit for readability the stories contained in the nearly 70-page book.

"It took me several years to compile these stories, and with each one I was reminded of five additional stories," Father Cummings says. "It is like sitting down and watching reruns of movies or TV shows, remembering that time and place with fondness."

He emphasizes that his collection of light-hearted tales is offered as stories of inspiration and faith — not negativity or disdain. "It seems to me that there is enough ridicule and criticism written and spoken today to go around," he states.

Father Cummings recalls the early days of his priesthood when clerics were "on call" without the benefit of cell phones or beepers. "You just provided a list of phone numbers and hoped and prayed you could be reached in an emergency," he remembers.

The priest's book of reminiscences of people, places and experiences of bygone days tells of times never to be recaptured — such as producing parish bulletins on mimeograph machines and assuring the rectory cook, "I'll eat anything but liver."

"My hope is that these stories will bring a smile to your face, gratitude for God's blessings and inspiration to your life from the simple faith of so many of our brothers and sisters," offers Father Cummings.

Love, Laughter & Living Saints by Rev. Charles J. Cummings is available online on Nook (Barnes and Noble) and Kindle (Amazon) for $6.99. A hard copy of the book is currently on sale for $10 at Otto's Book Store in Williamsport (www.ottobookstore.com)

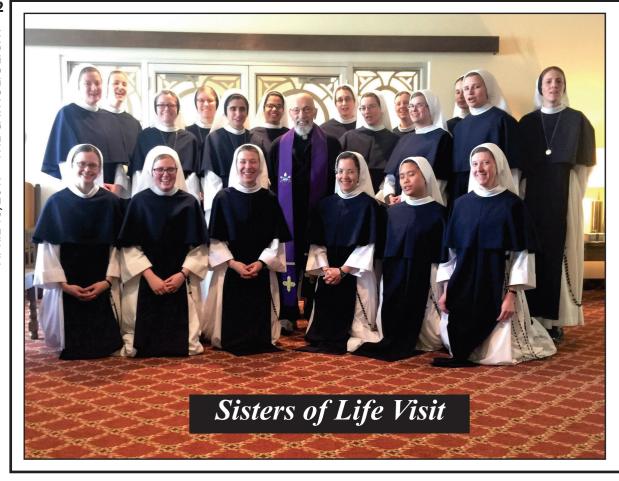

Little Sisters Celebrate St. Joseph's Feast Day

The Little Sisters of the Poor at Holy Family Residence in Scranton hosted their annual St. Joseph's Day celebration marking the recent feast of St. Joseph, husband of the Blessed Mother and foster father of Jesus, who is venerated as the patron saint of the Universal Church as well as protector of the Little Sisters of the Poor. The celebration featured Bishop Emeritus James C. Timlin serving as principal celebrant of the feast day Mass, concelebrated by several diocesan priests.

Francis Kelly, chaplain of Holy Family Residence; and Mother Theresa Louisa, lsp, superior of the Little Sisters' Scranton community.

Members of the Sisters of Life recently visited Villa St. Joseph in Dunmore for a Mass and Lenten Day of Recollection with Monsignor John Esseff. In addition to the liturgy, their visit to Scranton offered the opportunity for confessions and two conferences presented by Monsignor Esseff. He reminded them of their identity in Jesus, and the call every Christian has received by the grace of our Baptism, Confirmation, and reception of the Eucharist. Monsignor also spoke about the particular spiritual gifts we have received from God, and how we want to recognize them in ourselves and others, and exercise them for the building up of the Body of Christ. The Sisters expressed their gratitude for the blessings received and insights gained during this time with Monsignor Esseff.

The Sisters of Life is a contemplative/active religious community of women founded in 1991 in New York by John Cardinal O'Connor, former bishop of Scranton, dedicated to the protection and enhancement of the sacredness of every human life. Their missions include caring for vulnerable pregnant women and their unborn children; retreat works; outreach to college students on three university campuses in Denver; inviting those wounded by abortion into the healing mercy of Jesus; fostering a culture of life through evangelization; and upholding the beauty of marriage and family life. WASHINGTON (CNS) - Cardinal is particularly noted for his work in fur-William H. Keeler, who served as bishop of Harrisburg and retired as Baltimore's 14th archbishop, died March 23 at his residence at St. Martin's Home for the Aged in Catonsville, Md. He was 86.

Pope Francis, in a papal telegram March 24, sent condolences to Baltimore Archbishop William E. As president of the U.S. bishops' conference from 1992 to 1995, he participated in a wide range of national and international

As part of his work with what is now the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops, Cardinal Keeler developed a reputation for effectively building interfaith bonds. He thering Catholic-Jewish dialogue. He was appointed moderator of Catholic-Jewish Relations for the USCCB.

He later was named vice chancellor and vicar general of the Harrisburg Diocese and named an auxiliary bishop for the diocese in 1979. Four years later he was appointed its bishop.

2017 Lay Ministry Skills Workshops Office for Parish Life Diocese of Scranton

Putting the "Pastoral" in Pastoral Ministry with Sr. Jane Connolly, IHM and Fr. Joe Evanko, May 13, 9AM-3PM at Holy Family Parish, Luzerne

Half of this workshop will look at the way encounters with parishioners about everyday human life can hold opportunities for faith-filled experiences of Jesus. Sr. Jane will explain pastoral counseling as a way to recognize the Paschal Mystery unfolding in human life and give participants an opportunity to try out this approach.

The second half of the workshop acknowledges that pastoral ministers are whole persons whose sexuality is intrinsic. A mature pastoral minister needs to appreciate his/her sexuality and channel it in creative and healthy ways. Fr. Evanko will describe how to develop these attitudes as well as how to maintain appropriate boundaries in ministry.

Sr. Jane Connolly, IHM, is a Pastoral Associate for St. Rose of Lima and Our Lady of Mt Carmel Parishes in Carbondale. She is a certified chaplain, with many years in hospital and parish ministry. Fr. Joe Evanko is a priest of the Diocese of Scranton, serving as the pastor of Our Lady Help of Christians Parish in Dorrance and of St. Jude Parish in Mountaintop. He has an MS in Counseling from Marywood University.

Paschal Triduum

Holy Saturday, April 15, is the day that the Church waits at the Lord's tomb in prayer, meditating on his passion, death and his descent among the dead, and awaiting his resurrection. Morning Prayer will be at 8 a.m. at the Cathedral, followed by a retreat for those preparing to be brought into full communion with the Catholic Church and to receive the Easter Sacraments. The blessing of Easter Baskets will take place at 1 p.m. in the Cathedral.

The Easter Vigil in the Holy Night is the greatest of all solemnities in the Church and is the center of the Paschal Triduum. Bishop Bambera will be the principal celebrant and homilist of the Easter Vigil Mass at the Cathedral, beginning at 8 p.m.

This third movement of the Triduum is arranged in four parts: the Lucernarium (a service of light) in which the new Easter fire is blessed and the paschal candle is prepared, followed by the Easter Proclamation (Exsultet); the Liturgy of the Word, in which the Church meditates on its own salvation history, trusting in God's word and promise; the Liturgy of Baptism and Confirmation in which new members of the Church are reborn and baptismal promises of current members are renewed; and the Liturgy of the Eucharist, in which the Church celebrates the memorial of Christ's death and resurrection until he comes again.

Also on this night, 189 people who have journeyed through the Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (RCIA) process will become fully initiated Catholics by the celebration of their Baptism, Confirmation, and the reception of the Eucharist. This will take place during the Easter Vigil celebrated in parishes throughout the Diocese. They join tens of thousands of other individuals throughout the world who will become members of the Church that night.

Finally, the Paschal Triduum concludes with Easter Sunday of the Resurrection of the Lord – the most joyous day in the liturgical year. This joy overflows into the Easter season, which leads to the celebration of Christ's Ascension into glory and culminates in his sending forth of the Holy Spirit upon the Church at Pentecost. Bishop Bambera will celebrate a Pontifical Mass on April 16 at 10 a.m. at the Cathedral. Additional Masses during the day will be at 6:30 a.m. and 12:15 p.m.

Since Christ accomplished his work of human redemption and offers perfect worship to the Father through his Paschal Mystery, the Sacred Paschal Triduum shines forth as the high point of the entire liturgical year, and the 50 days of Easter are to be celebrated with joy and exultation for Christ has won the victory over sin and death.

Good Friday Collection

Caring for Christians in the Holy Land

On Good Friday, a pontifical collection is taken up in every parish in the United States. Catholics will gather to contribute to the annual collection with the proceeds supporting ministries and works in the Holy Land, largely under the direction of the Franciscans.

The Pontifical Good Friday Collection is providing humanitarian aid to Christians and others who have disrupted by the war in Syria.

Cardinal Leonardo Sandri, prefect of the Congregation for the Oriental Churches, addressed a letter to all bishops worldwide in which he said:

"Presently, there are millions of refugees fleeing Syria and Iraq, where the roar of arms does not cease and the way of dialogue and concord seems to be completely lost. Senseless hatred seems to prevail instead, along with the helpless desperation of those who have lost everything and have been expulsed from the land of their ancestors. If the Christians of the Holy Land are encouraged to resist, to the degree possible, the understandable temptation to flee, the faithful throughout the world are asked to take their plight to heart."

HOLY LAND

The Pontifical Good Friday Collection offers a direct opportunity for parishioners to be witnesses of peace. Their support is a sign of Christian unity, which helps protect the Holy Places and supports Christians in the Holy Land. This annual Pontifical Good Friday Collection unites all Christians with the Holy Land.

The Diocese of Scranton is committed to educating our students in an environment that is academically excellent and facilitates the development of moral judgment and Christian decision-making. We are proud to share the following successes of our students in the classroom and in their service to others. Each day, our schools are fulfilling their mission of preparing today's youth and young adults to become tomorrow's faith-filled leaders.

Bishop Joseph C. Bambera celebrated the sacred liturgy recently with the students from three schools: Notre Dame Elementary and Notre Dame Jr./Sr. High Schools in East Stroudsburg, as well as Monsignor McHugh School in Cresco. While speaking with the students, he shared some words of wisdom as a reminder of how much God loves them and how God calls us to be His followers. "You can make a difference for good in the world. You are doing many of these things now. You feed the hungry, you give clothes to those who need them, you help other students. Every day, ask yourself, 'Is someone's life better by encountering me today?' Don't underestimate yourselves: you can be the hearts, hands and voice of Jesus in the world."

Student Production Aims to Reduce Stigma of Mental Illness

DALLAS — Misericordia University professors of psychology and English are collaborating on a research project and public theatrical presentation designed to promote the understanding and reduce the stigma of mental illness.

Together they will present "The Voices Project: Mental Health" during April 20-22 at 8 p.m. and on Sunday, April 23, at 3 p.m. in the Lemmond Theater in Walsh Hall on the Misericordia campus. The presentations are open to the public free of charge.

Under the direction of Alicia Nordstrom, Ph.D., professor of psychology and director of the Center for Faculty Professional Development, and Amanda Caleb, Ph.D., associate professor of English, 55 Misericordia students interviewed more than 60 people with mental health conditions and their family members to learn about their lives.

Based on their interviews, the students wrote a first-person narrative about those interviewed to share how the mental health conditions have affected their lives. The narratives were integrated to produce the theatrical program to be presented later this month.

Who makes house calls?

As of October 2015, I will now meet clients either at their home, or at a location they choose and no longer require clients to meet at my office. I have decided that I would change the way I meet with people so it will be as easy and as convenient as possible for the client.

Based on my practice, which consists of estate planning and administration along with elder law, I find that clients are more comfortable discussing such matters in familiar surroundings. While I know this may seem unconventional to some, I believe I will be able to serve clients much better in this fashion. If anyone is uncomfortable with home visits, I have a few locations where I can meet in an office setting. I look forward to meeting with my existing clients and especially meeting new clients that are looking for any assistance in estate or elder law matters.

Today is Holy Thursday, the beginning of the Sacred Triduum and the end of Lent. As we enter the Sacred Triduum — the high point of the Liturgical year — we might remember how Holy Week began this past Palm Sunday with the triumphal entry of Jesus into Jerusalem: the waving of palm branches and cheers of Hosanna! But just a few days later on Good Friday those cheers turned to angry shouts: "Crucify Him! Crucify Him!"

In the midst of that angry crowd stood the composed Christ, with a serene face and steady eyes. The one calm person in Pilate's court, Jesus — the first missionary sent by God the Father — was not spared humiliation, torture, and even a horrific death on the cross. What was the secret of Christ's composure? Consider this: His composure was the accumulated consequence of many quiet hours praying and surrendering to the Father's will.

All the readings on Good Friday focus on the arrest of Jesus, his innocence and composure, and what happened after he was bound and crowned with thorns. I suppose, from the relative safety and general abundance of living in the United States, we may just spiritualize Good Friday — until we are jolted from our complacency by accounts of human communities awash in corruption, intimidation, and torture and what that means for millions of our brothers and sisters throughout the world. Like Jesus, they, too, are innocent. Oppressed and condemned, they are bound and taken away, cut off from the land of the living.

Just one year ago, four Missionaries of Charity — the order founded by Mother Teresa of Calcutta (our newest saint) - were murdered in a terroristic attack at a nursing home in Aden, the main city on the coast of southern Yemen. The nursing home was established by Saint Mother Teresa, and was marked by a large sign as Mother Teresa's Home.

The Sisters were separated from the patients and bound up before they were brutally shot in the head. They ended up surrendering their lives to pursue the pledge of their Order. The mission of the Missionaries of Charity is to quench the physical and spiritual thirst of those they serve, the least among us — the forgotten, the abandoned, those on the margins — by responding to two of the last words that Jesus spoke dying on the cross: "I Thirst."

In response to these murders, Holy Father Pope Francis declared, "These are the martyrs of today! They are not on the front page of newspapers; they are not news. They are the people who give blood for the Church. These people are the victims of those who have murdered but also of the indifference, of this global indifference of those who do not care."

More recently, Pope Francis has called for the world to open its eyes and hearts by appealing for humanitarian assistance to South Sudan, where famine and a devastating lack of water threatens the lives of millions of people already suffering due to a threeyear civil war. In the "martyred St. Francis of Assisi Kitchen can be depended upon to feed the hungry 365 days a year.

For 39 years, the Kitchen has served a free daily meal to needy men, women and children - more than 3 million free meals in all. In addition to the daily noon meal, the Kitchen also serves an evening meal on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 5-6 p.m. In a new outreach program that began last fall, the Kitchen has partnered with three Lackawanna County parishes to provide free hot meals to those in need within the neighborhoods of those churches. The meals are offered from noon to 12:30 p.m. at Holy Cross Parish at St. Patrick's Church in Olyphant on Wednesdays, at St. Rose of Lima Parish at that church in Carbondale on Thursdays, and at Christ the King Parish at St. Thomas Aquinas Church in Archbald on Tuesdays.

> The meals are available to anyone - no questions asked and all guests are treated with dignity and respect.

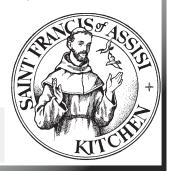

The Kitchen has been able to remain faithful to its mission through the generosity of the community, in particular through support of the annual Host-for-a Day

Pope Francis went on to urge governments and international organizations to "not stop at just making statements, but take concrete steps so that necessary food and water can reach the suffering population being condemned to death by hunger."

Responding to this, the Pontifical Mission Societies through MISSIO is gathering emergency support for South Sudan. This appeal for help will put resources in the hands of Catholic priests
